The Anti-Ragging Day, observed on August 12, 2024, served as a pivotal orientation day, setting the tone for a safe and inclusive academic journey. Our institution marked this significant day with a firm commitment to fostering a ragging-free environment, where every individual can feel secure, respected, and valued. The Anti-Ragging Committee spearheaded the event, which saw enthusiastic participation from students. This orientation day served as a powerful reminder of our institution's zero-tolerance policy towards ragging, and our unwavering dedication to creating a supportive community that encourages collaboration, creativity, and growth. By observing Anti-Ragging Day, we reinforced our commitment to providing a nurturing environment that allows every student to thrive and reach their full potential.
